

AS BAD AS COULD BE

Congress Will Not Adjourn Till August, Maybe Later.

It Has Sat So Long a Few Weeks More Won't Hurt.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Their Encampment Will Help to Enliven Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—[Special.]—Congress has changed its mind once more, as it is capable of doing and has a perfect right to do. The current talk now is that Wednesday, Aug. 15, will be the date of adjournment, and this talk comes from so many of the old heads on both sides that it may be taken as a sort of semi-official announcement. As to the question about those who were so anxious to get home and see about their districts, a western member laughingly replied: "Well, it's just like it was with my wife when we first went to housekeeping. If I was delayed half an hour after the regular meal-time, why, I knew that the dinner was spoiled and that my wife was as mad as was going to be anyhow, and so it didn't make any difference how much longer I staid away. When the 1st of July passed, with no tariff bill and a certainty that sugar was to be heavily taxed, my constituents were as full of 'mad' as they could be and not bust, and so it makes no difference how long I stay here."

A Lively Month.
August will indeed be a very lively month. July 28 the troops of this district, including the Columbia national guard, will go into camp on the flat near Marshall Hall and remain till Aug. 6, and if the appropriation therefor gets through in time there will be a general brigade encampment. After this will come a great variety of public functions of an interesting character and then the grand encampment of the Knights of Pythias, which, if one may judge from the preparations made and the letters received, will be by far the grandest thing of the kind ever held in the United States. It is a fact of some interest that very many Pythian commands in Indiana, Illinois and farther west have sent special notices that their members are also very largely members of the militia, and that if the labor troubles are serious in August the acceptance of the Washington call must be considered as withdrawn.

It being taken by consent apparently that the session is to round out the year since this congress first met, there is quite a revival in old business that had been laid aside and renewed activity in some of the committee rooms. Messrs. Geary, Maguire, Mallory and others specially interested in it once more hope to get the Nicaragua canal bill to the front, and the committee on Pacific railroads swear by all that is good and great that they will do something yet this session if the house does not positively forbid it. In the general rush of routine business and concentration of interest on the tariff conference the various investigations were quite overlooked, and, except for Senator Allen, it is possible that the inquiry into the sugar bribery charges would be ignored.

These Armer Plates.
The house naval committee suspended its investigation for a week because of the naval appropriation bill coming back from the senate with important amendments, but it is now resumed, and Chairman Cummings talks as if they had hardly got fairly into it. There have been some very curious changes, and the case has so far shown three very distinct phases. First all the testimony seemed to bear very hard on the Carnegie company, as it was admitted that all kinds of tricks had been practiced on the government inspectors, and some vessels had been sent to sea without inspection. A new set of witnesses turned the tide strongly against the inspectors. It was admitted that they had been imposed upon in various ways, but claimed that it was done merely to save trouble, which their ignorant officiousness would have caused and that the plan was every whit as good as was agreed upon, and most of them better. The real appeal, said the company, was to the ballistic test, and that brought on the third stage. It was shown that the plates had the tensile strength and other qualities contracted for, and yet projectiles were fired right through them. The consolation now is that, while we probably got as good plates as we contracted for, yet we did so much better in the projectile line that we shall now have to invent tougher plates.

The Conference Fight.
Old senators say that they do not remember any conference which resulted nearly as the public expected, and the journalist predicted. Everybody said that the fight would be on coal, iron and sugar, especially sugar, and so it seems to be coming out. Senator Kyle, who is probably as impartial an observer as a senator could be at such time, and who has kept well informed of every day's proceedings, says: "I am satisfied that an agreement could be reached in an hour if the senate conferees—that is, the Democrats—were sure that their party in the senate would sustain them, and I am very certain that on a final vote there is only one Democrat in the senate who would take the responsibility of voting against a party measure of this importance. That is not what the Democratic conferees are afraid of. They know that they can pass the bill finally—they must pass it, but if a partial agreement is reported and then disagreement on the six important items a long struggle may follow and keep us here till October."

Comparison Tables.
The Carlisle tables, as they are called, have excited unusual interest and are studied with more zeal than public documents generally are, and it seems as if they have reconciled many Democrats of the house to the senate bill, whether that was their object or not. They present the rates of duty under the law of 1883, the Mills bill, the McKinley act, the Wilson bill as it is left the house and the senate bill in parallel columns, with specific duties reduced to ad valorem per cents, and thus show at a glance what the reduction will be if the senate bill is accepted. Occasionally there is an increase. Thus the McKinley rate on alcoholic compounds is 18 per cent, while in the senate bill it is 18 per cent, and so of several articles of that nature in the first schedule—chemicals, oils and paints—and yet there is a great average reduction. In the schedule of earthenware and glassware the reduction is figured by experts at 20 per cent. In the third schedule—metals and manufactures thereof—there appears great reduction on the face of the figures, but it would be a big job to figure the average reduction on the hundreds of articles, with their varying rates. The schedule of wood and manufactures thereof is quite a surprise, for the senate bill makes the first eight articles free, while the Wilson bill had them dutied at from 7 to 14 per cent, and so of several other items.

COREAN TROOPS DEFEATED

War in the Orient Has Apparently Been Begun.

SHANGHAI, July 24.—[U. S. P. M.]—A dispatch received here from Nagasaki, on the southwest side of the Island of Kyoo Sioo, Japan, says that a detachment of Korean troops, at the instigation of the Chinese residents, attacked the Japanese garrison and were defeated.

A later telegram says that a Japanese cruiser and a Chinese transport have been engaged and that the cruiser sunk the transport.

The price of coal has risen 40 per cent on account of the large demand made upon these supplies for use upon warships, transports and the like.

Result of Korean Troops.
WASHINGTON, July 24.—Information received at the Japanese legation here today from Tokio is to the effect that the trouble referred to in the Shanghai dispatch to the Associated Press, occurred at Seoul, the capital of Korea, and not at Nagasaki, as reported.

The cablegram giving the minister the news of the difficulty is as follows: "Korean troops made an uncalculated attack on the Japanese troops stationed in Seoul and the troops returned the fire."

Notorious Outlaw Killed.
PENNY, Ok., July 24.—Clay Davis, a member of the Dalton gang, and a horse thief was killed sixteen miles east of here by Sheriff J. M. Taylor. Davis and Bud Appling were liberated from jail here during a fire and officers found them secreted in a hut near the town of Morrison. A battle occurred and Davis was killed and Appling wounded. Appling was a prize fighter from Colorado.

Severe Drought in Iowa.
DES MOINES, Iowa, July 24.—The Iowa crop bulletin issued today says: The drought remains practically unbroken. The pastures are bare and live stock is suffering for feed and water. Within the past two weeks corn in the larger part of the state has steadily declined in condition and the extent of injury cannot as yet be estimated. Potatoes, flax, millet and grass have suffered great damage.

Photographers of America.
ST. LOUIS, July 24.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Photographers Association of America began its four day session in the Musical Hall in this city at 10 a. m. today, being called to order by President Adam Heimbarger, of New Albany, Ind.

HE IS ADJUDGED INSANE

The Crank Named Jones, Who Has Threatened Bradford's Life.

The man who threatened to kill Ex-Attorney General Bradford, as told in yesterday's JOURNAL, was adjudged insane in the probate court today. He is known as J. Britton Jones, and "Jones of Bala," but he is commonly called plain John Jones.

Jones, like nearly all crazy men, has a delusion, and he has faithfully followed it for many years. It is that the state of Kansas has robbed him of his property, wife and children. Many prominent men in the state have been held by Jones in some measure responsible for the fancied wrongs of which he has been the victim.

He says the state should make him reparation and with that object in view he has almost continually harassed the first two state administrations. His grievance against Gen. Bradford was caused because Bradford while attorney general refused to prosecute the probate judge of Des Moines county, before whom Jones' wife was found insane and sent to the asylum in 1879. She died in the asylum several years ago.

Jones recited his delusion to the jury today telling how he had come from Wales with his family in 1868 and how Bradford had worked to get along. He was very profuse in the use of big words and told how he had been "given an expensive education in my youth, sir," and how he and his wife were "confused almost to perplexity" by their troubles. He then told how his wife had been sent to the asylum so that his property and children could be stolen from him.

The witnesses examined were Mayor T. W. Harrison, S. B. Bradford, City Attorney Tillotson, Deputy City Attorney Hungeat, Police Commissioner Kraus and Deputy County Attorney S. S. Urmy. All testified that Jones had come to them and requested that they help him to get back his property and children. Kraus testified that he had accused Bradford of robbing him and had said he ought to have a rope about his neck.

The testimony of Jones, himself, was enough to convict him. It took the jury but a little while to get at the insanity which was with Jones in the insane asylum. He has been a familiar character about Topeka for several years but has always been considered harmless until recently.

CHASE IS CONDEMNED.

State Officials Blame Him for Losing His Temper.

Judge J. F. McDonald, the ex-member of the board of pardons, who was slugged at Leavenworth last night by Warden Chase of the penitentiary, is in the city today.

Chase and McDonald have been at odds for some time. McDonald accuses Chase of injuring his business as an attorney by telling prisoners in the penitentiary that if they want to get out they had better have nothing to do with McDonald as he has no standing with the state administration and the Board of Pardons.

Officials at the state house condemn Chase for allowing his temper to get away with him to such an extent that he would strike an old man.

DAN DUPREE KILLED.

A Topeka Colored Man Shot by a Santa Fe Conductor.

The news of the death of Dan Dupree, a Topeka colored young man, reached Topeka today. He was shot and killed near Newton last night by a Santa Fe conductor. It is said that Dupree was stealing a ride, and attempted to shoot the brakeman who was in the act of putting him off. Dupree's shot went wide of its mark but the conductor retaliated with a shot that was fatal.

Dupree's sister, Annie Clay, received a telegram today announcing the death and inquiring what disposition should be made of the body. She replied to send it to Topeka. Some of the colored people are reported to be very angry at the death of Dupree and propose to have the conductor arrested. Dupree was well known in Topeka, especially by the policemen.

HOW DID THEY GET THERE?

Books Belonging to the Supreme Court Go Astray.

Some interest is manifested about the state house in regard to the finding of some supreme court law books in the office of Labor Commissioner Todd.

Ever since the Miss Jones letter, which was taken from Judge Horton's private office, was found in the hands of Labor Commissioner Todd the latter official has been regarded with suspicion and distrust by a large per cent of the state house attaches.

The books of the supreme court consultation room are all labeled with large black letters "JONES ROOM" and are not allowed to be taken from that room. Today however several of these law books were found in the book case in Labor Commissioner Todd's office. How they got there no one seems to know. The supreme court officials have not yet requested their return.

DON'T LIKE THE TIMES.

The Democrats of Shawnee Pass Some Stringent Resolutions.

In answer to a certain article which appeared in the Kansas City Times of July 14th, and which was deemed derogatory to the Democracy of Shawnee county, and an insult to the recent Democratic convention held in this county, the Shawnee club which is an organization of Democrats consisting of about 200 members, passed the following resolution at its regular meeting.

Whereas, An article appeared in the Kansas City Times of July 14th, setting forth in substance that the fight made in the Shawnee county Democratic convention against Eugene Hagan was instituted by Populists, who "had it in" for him on account of the part he took in the quarrel between Mrs. Lease and Governor Lowell, and had been very angry with him ever since and that they had tried to get him off the state central committee, but failed and that they had claimed that Hagan was not in good standing in his party in his own county, but that the absurdity and falsity of this charge was proved by certain resolutions having been adopted by the Flambeau club of Topeka, and

Whereas, Each and every one of said charges are absolutely false and untrue and the entire article as contained in the Kansas City Times is wholly false and untrue as therein stated, and

Whereas, The Shawnee County Democratic convention that passed the resolutions against Mr. Hagan was composed of the best Democrats in Shawnee county and was the largest Democratic county convention ever held in Shawnee county, and

Whereas, The resolutions passed by Democratic Flambeau club referred to in said article were passed by just eight members of said club and did not, by any means, speak the sentiments of said flambeau club, nor of the Democrats of Shawnee county,

Resolved, That the Secretary is instructed to furnish a copy of this resolution to the Kansas City Times, Topeka Daily Press and the Topeka STATE JOURNAL.

Resolved, Further, that we denounce the appointment of Eugene Hagan on the state central committee as an insult to every true and loyal Democrat of Shawnee county, and also an insult to the Democracy of the state of Kansas, and

Resolved, Further, that we believe Hagan's appointment was made through petty spite, and reflects no credit on those appointing him, and will do the Democratic state ticket great and lasting injury in the coming campaign, and

Resolved, Further, that the Secretary is instructed to furnish a copy of this resolution to the Kansas City Times, Topeka Daily Press and the Topeka STATE JOURNAL.
